Is there a battery Gigafactory in Serbia?

In Serbia's northernmost city of Subotica, a project is underway for a battery gigafactory with an annual capacity of 8 GWh, set for launch in 2026, while 40 GWh is planned to be added by end-2027. The developer, ElevenEs, has just finished the cell manufacturing facility, as scheduled.

Could Serbia be a technological leader in LFP battery production?

The Republic of Serbia could be a technological leader in LFP battery production in the whole world outside of China, because it has a chance to become the first in Europe to mass-produce this type of battery. The signed Memorandum with the European Union envisages a serious focus on the ecosystem of electric vehicles and battery production.

Will Serbia be able to produce electric cars?

Serbia's mining minister, Dubravka Djedovic Handanovic, said mining probably would not start for another two years, but once it did, lithium from the Jadar Valley would allow Serbia to manufacture batteries and electric cars, providing about 20,000 jobs.
